Notes for Manuel Pereira Silva:

Baptism says June however looks like tried to correct to July Manuel celebrated July 11, 1847 but will put June in as an alternate. Have checked all of Pico only one with correct parents listed in the 4 years surrounding birthdate. Also checked other islands to verify just in case family was wrong on Pico Island none born on other islands either so believe this is correct birth record for Manuel hopeful to confirm via DNA

Godparents Ambrosio Gracia and Maria Josefa

Notes for Marianna do Nascimento Avila:

Name: Nascimento Family History. Portuguese: religious byname from Portuguese nascimento 'birth', 'nativity' (Late Latin nascimentum, from nasci 'to be born'). This was one of the epithets of the Virgin Mary (Maria do Nascimento), and was also used as a given name for children born at Christmas. Marianna was born on Christmas Eve.

a church fire in 1920 and all the church's records had been destroyed so they had no way of knowing who had paid for a plot and who hadn't. So, they required people to show them a receipt for the payment in order to get buried in Holy Spirit. Manuel was buried prior to the fire but Marianna was after. It's possible that she got buried someplace else such as Holy Sepulchre Cemetery in Hayward, CA (many of the locals chose that cemetery).

Regarding Marie Madeline Silva, there was a notarized letter in the Holy Spirit Facilities file cabinet that essentially said that 3 graves had been purchased: 1. Manuel Perry Silva, 2. Marianna Avila Silva and 3. Marie Madeline Silva. They let me look at the letter, but was not able to copy it. I worked at the time with 2 Facilities guys from the church: Pat Ford and Don Silva (both have left the area). The guy taking their place was Rollie Salazar - I had no contact with him and don't know if he is still there. I was contacted in 2014 from Deacon Steve from Holy Spirit. He called me to get me to send him my Excel files on the cemetery, because he was going to tackle the task of identifying the unmarked graves. I never heard how that came out. I sent him my file.

None of the above answers your question of where Marianna is buried. The Facilities guys were very careful in directing the Mortuary to the proper place of burial, so I would assume that they got it right and that the Marianna buried with Joaquin is actually his wife. I could find no records that indicate that anyone else was buried in grave with Marie Madeline.
