

KCFusion welcomes Ben Forta of Macromedia

Ben Forta, Macromedia's key ColdFusion guru is coming to Kansas City

Ben will be presenting a "new product announcement and demonstration" ...it is so secret, all they will tell us is that it has something to do with ColdFusion MX....

Ben Forta is a Senior Product Evangelist for Macromedia. In that capacity he gets to spend a considerable amount of time talking and writing about ColdFusion, and providing feedback to help shape the future direction of the product. Ben is the author of books on ColdFusion, HomeSite (Macromedia's award winning HTML editor), Macromedia Spectra, SQL, Windows 2000, JSP, WAP and more. Ben also has several new books on the way.

To learn more about Ben, visit his web site at: www.forta.com

The meeting will take place on Monday, May 6th at 7pm on the 2nd floor of the UMKC Administration Building at 5115 Oak St, KCMO 64112, just southeast of the Plaza.

Parking is free across the street (to the west).

Space is limited, please RSVP to Ryan, 913-317-8350, hartwichr@hotmail.com

Pizza & soft drinks are sponsored by Greensoft Solutions (www.gsi-kc.com), magazines by ColdFusion Developer's Journal (www.sys-con.com/coldfusion), handouts by Distributor Central (www.distributorcentral.com),
... and possible giveaways (software ???) by Macromedia!
