and character. This triggered SAI group in choosing 'Good Company' as the central theme for the benefit of students.

Developing interesting hobbies such as gardening, singing, music, playing, growing pets, etc come under the purview of Good Company. With a view to imbibing 'Environmental Care' by the students, each child who participated at this workshop was gifted with a tiny sapling of a flowering plant in a miniature pot bearing a value slogan 'Love All Serve All'.

They were given a simple orientation on how to take care of the plant by providing adequate sunlight and periodic watering.

The children enjoyed the multimedia presentation on 'Good Company' that was shown and also a puppet show projecting the importance of leading a life in the company of good.

Value songs sung by SAI volunteers enthralled the children and the public. On the whole, the workshop was unique and had all the ingredients of variety, fun and above all education.

SAI group in cooperation with the MoE, Oman, has been organising 'Spreading the Light through Human Values' Essay Writing and Poster Making Competition on Human Value topics for school students.
